

Excellent Opportunity in our Packhouse

Working for S&A is full of flavour and just bursting with opportunities for people like you who are looking for a career that is well paid, rewarding, interesting, diverse and exciting.

We are currently recruiting for a QA Manager to join our team in Kent.

This is a demanding but very interesting opportunity. If you understand the importance of quality to consumers and businesses, have an eye for detail and are a good communicator, this could be the tasty career you are looking for.

QA (Quality Assurance) Manager

As a QA Manager your minimum experience level will be as a QA Technician and your qualifications should be related to the food industry.

You will have a good working knowledge of the different legislative standards and requirements within this sector. You will need to be an extremely well-motivated and diligent individual who is passionate about helping colleagues to work as effectively as possible.

You're someone who approaches their work logically and analytically. You'll be someone able to make quick, accurate judgements and back these up with facts and information.

As a manager, you'll be expected to lead a team and so experience in a leadership role is critical as is the ability to communicate professionally and competently.

You will need proven experience in management and/or quality control ideally having a degree or postgraduate qualification in quality management or business studies.

Your role will be varied but includes the following:

- Measuring performance against internal and external standards such as those maintained by the British Retail Consortium (BRC) and under Hazardous Analysis and Critical Control Point (HACCP) requirements.
- Reviewing existing policies and planning how to improve quality management systems.
- Making recommendations for improvements.
- Inspecting and testing products and production processes.
- Ensuring that all quality policies and procedures meet national and international standards.
- Ensuring all staff are competent to do their jobs properly.
- Liaising closely with other managers and departments.
- Managing a team of quality technicians and ensuring consistency of approach from the team.

This is a full-time, permanent position.

Flexibility will be required as evening and weekend work will be required during peak periods of production.

To apply, send your CV and covering letter to: Jo Kennedy, Group HR & Recruitment Manager: jo.kennedy@sagroup.co.uk with confirmation that you have read our Candidate Privacy Notice that is available on our website.

In association with the benefit hub, we have also developed a retail shopping and voucher portal, where you will be able to enjoy discounts, rewards and perks on thousands of the brands you love.
